We proudly invite you to participate as a Sponsor of a memorable event of 2026: The Saskatoon Tribal Council 5th Annual Every Child Matters Pow Wow, coming to SaskTel Centre in Saskatoon on September 29 and 30, 2026.

We will work with you to prominently highlight your business and your contribution at the chosen level of sponsorship throughout the event

The event will highlight the beauty of First Nations people through song and dance and feature amazing talent from our community.

Saskatoon Tribal Council events are must-attend experiences that offer an opportunity to immerse yourself, your team, and your family in the rich culture of our communities. We welcome you to be part of this Pow Wow, a gathering shared with our community to honour the children who did not return home from Residential Schools and the survivors who continue to heal and share their stories. Through education and cultural sharing, we continue to build relationships and strengthen our shared community.

Come to be amazed! Come to learn and share!

About Us

The Saskatoon Tribal Council (STC) improves the Quality of Life for First Nation members, living on and off reserve, through mutually beneficial partnerships with community organizations and industry. We provide second level support services and financial community investments. Opportunities for improved living are accessed through an array of health, safety, and education programs and services. Acting as a representative body for seven First Nations, STC employs more than 600 people throughout various locations.

Broad areas of service and support include: political advocacy; early childhood learning; environmental health; technical services; in-school education; health services; affordable housing; labour force development; economic development; and community philanthropy.

Our Members

In addition to serving First Nation members living in Saskatoon, STC represents approximately 15,000 members within our seven First Nations communities located within 250 km of Saskatoon. Our member communities span three distinct First Nations cultures: Cree, Saulteaux and Dakota. STC also serves First Nation citizens living in Saskatoon through an array of programs and services.

The STC Treaty Assembly, a governing body comprised of the Chiefs and Councils strategically guide the organization while representing each community's distinct priorities.

Quality of Life Strategy

Operating under the Values of FIRE – Fairness, Integrity, Respect and Excellence, STC creates opportunities for First Nations, primarily youth, through mutually beneficial partnerships with community organizations and industry. Through our programs and services, these opportunities create a foundation for success

To do this, we collaborate with the seven communities, the City of Saskatoon, school boards, community organizations, private industry and governments to provide a multitude of programs and services focusing on the four key areas of education, health, safety, and economics.
